Investment update - November

November saw world markets rally once again despite a chill in the air and swirling headwinds. The ongoing US/China trade dispute continues to dominate global market sentiment, with investors seemingly more confident that the 'phase one' trade deal could be negotiated before the 15 December deadline. However, investors' confidence waned towards the end of November as the deadline approached with little sign of an agreement, leading to a sell-off in world markets. Closer to home, the saga of another general election continues to play out, with many pollsters highlighting a narrowing Conservative majority (read our most recent Touchbutton for further analysis). As we fast approach the end of 2019, the general election result will without a doubt be at the forefront of investors' thinking with an eye on the next Brexit deadline of the 31 January. With such marked events just around the corner, our Investment Committee remain content with the positioning of our strategies, which was reflected in the decision to leave the Balanced strategy unchanged during the month. Having reduced our alternatives exposure in October, by selling out of funds that are more sensitive to a sudden reappraisal of risk, our headline stockmarket exposure remains neutral with a continued two-thirds international bias. We continue to target high levels of liquidity across underlying investments and maintain a zero weighting to the commercial property sector, where fund 'gating' has once again re-emerged.

Hybrid Passive Managed Service

The service consists of five actively managed investment strategies, offering lower cost access to our discretionary fund management capabilities, through the combination of active and passive collective investments. The service provides a solution that, when cost considerations are paramount, does not compromise on quality. Investment strategies are monitored by our central Investment Committee to ensure consistency of performance from one portfolio to another. The service is available on the following platforms: Ascentric, Aviva, Fusion, Hubwise, Nucleus, Standard Life and Transact.

Investment objective

The objective is to build capital in real (inflation-adjusted) terms over the medium to longer term. Investors should expect reasonable correlation to stockmarket behaviour and rewards, including quite sharp fluctuations in values, but also some protection in times of market weakness.

Risk score

Our strategies are constructed around five investment strategies, each with a differing commitment to equities via collective funds and other asset classes. The strategy is managed with a maximum target of 60% invested in equity markets at any given time and has been categorised as a Bordier UK risk profile 3.
