Investment update - November

World equity markets had one of the best months on record since 1989 in November, rallying on the back of the news of effective vaccines against COVID-19 and the possibility of vaccine roll outs in the near future. This, much needed, positive news was preceded by Joe Biden's US presidential election, which was also viewed favourably by markets. The 'Goldilocks' outcome of a potentially divided Senate / House of Representatives and avoidance of a 'Blue Wave' was viewed as the best outcome from a market perspective, in part because it seemingly makes significant tax increases and reforms of 'big tech' and sectors such as healthcare less likely. No changes were made to the strategy in November. The total allocation to global stockmarkets remains unchanged, with around 80% of equity exposure lying outside of the UK where we believe greater longer-term opportunities exist. Our Investment Committee continue to closely monitor current events and are actively looking at economic areas and themes that will now be best placed to capitalise from the recent global policy shifts in Europe (European Green Deal), China (carbon neutral by 2060) and the US (Biden's presidential election victory – renewables and infrastructure).

Hybrid Passive Risk Targeted Managed Service

The service consists of five actively managed investment strategies, offering lower cost access to our discretionary fund management capabilities, through the combination of active and passive collective investments. The service provides a solution that, when cost considerations are paramount, does not compromise on quality. Investment strategies are monitored by our central Investment Committee to ensure consistency of performance from one portfolio to another. The service is available on the Aviva and Standard Life platforms.

Investment objective

To preserve capital in real (inflation-adjusted) terms over the medium to longer term. Investors should expect low levels of reward and a low correlation to stockmarket behaviour, including modest fluctuations in values.

Risk profile

The strategy is managed in accordance with Dynamic Planner risk profile 3, with the strategy's expected volatility targeted to stay within the assigned Dynamic Planner risk profile's boundaries.
