Investment update - July

Weaker economic data raised expectations of a softening, and potential reversal, in interest rate policy in the US, perhaps as early as next year, driving equity markets sharply higher over the month. The growth and technology-heavy US market was the key beneficiary while emerging markets lagged, pulled down by US dollar strength and weak returns from China. The eurozone continues to face the most acute energy supply risk stemming from the conflict in Ukraine and, notably, the euro dipped below parity against the dollar during July as recession fears heightened. In the UK, the resignation of Boris Johnson has to date caused little discernible effect on markets. The European Central Bank announced its first rate increase (50bps) in 11 years ending the negative rate environment seen since 2014. The US Federal Reserve also announced a further 75bps rise in rates as expected. The strategy remains at the top end of its allowable equity range, as we prefer to remain invested and follow longer-term themes during times of market volatility that may create opportunities. Indeed, the allocation to Asia-Pacific ex Japan was increased during the month. We expect Asia to produce stronger levels of economic activity globally with China in particular expected to pursue more expansive monetary and economic policy. To accommodate this, the weighting to the FTF ClearBridge Global Infrastructure fund was reduced. However, we remain comfortable with the exposure to infrastructure, which continues to offer relatively stable returns and valuable inflation protection.

Headline positioning

- The strategies remain at the top end of their allowable equity range with good exposure to those parts of the world less likely to be exposed to the economic fall-out from war in Ukraine.
- We have reduced or removed entirely our exposure to Europe and increased our allocations to infrastructure, which not only boasts both defensive and inflation-protection characteristics, but also provides greater exposure to regions outside of Europe.
- In our lower risk strategies, we continue to favour inflation-linked bond funds, actively managed strategic bond funds and 'market neutral' alternative investments, which continue to act as good portfolio stabilisers, diversifiers of risk and sources of return.
- Cash exposure remains low and there continues to be focus on high levels of liquidity in everything that we own.
