Investment update - December

Equity markets retreated in December in relatively thin trading. Interest rates rose by a further 0.5% in the US and UK. Inflation is receding slightly in most key regions as energy prices fall and supply chains ease. Global manufacturing backlogs are falling quite rapidly and delivery times are improving. Indeed, in the US, the Richmond Manufacturing Index (a key measure of manufacturing activity) indicated the first expansion since April. This is encouraging, albeit not yet sufficient to change the tightening stance of key developed market central banks who may also be looking for evidence of weaker labour markets before changing policy. In the UK, reported pay increases in the private sector and the expanding list of public sector workers taking industrial action is adding to concerns that wage increases could extend the period of heightened inflation. The strategy remains at the top end of its allowable equity range. Equity market exposures have been maintained as the risks of exiting and re-entering markets may be greater than riding out further adjustment in asset prices. We have started to increase risk in fixed interest markets, adding targeted exposure to higher quality corporate credit through the addition of the TwentyFour Corporate Bond fund as we believe that yields have become attractive while default risk remains low. Shorter-duration positioning has largely done its job and opportunities are appearing across the full spectrum of bond markets. Our allocation to highly liquid alternative investment funds, that exhibit low levels of volatility, continue to act as an effective risk management tool.

Headline positioning

- ~ The strategies remain at the top end of their allowable equity range with good exposure to those parts of the world less likely to be exposed to the economic fall-out from war in Ukraine.
- ~ We have reduced or removed entirely our exposure to Europe and increased our allocation to Asia-Pacific ex Japan, where fundamentals and valuations look fairly attractive, and policy is more supportive for risk assets.
- ~ In our lower risk strategies, we continue to allocate to inflation-linked bond funds, actively managed strategic bond funds and 'market neutral' alternative investments, which continue to act as good portfolio stabilisers, diversifiers of risk and sources of return.
- ~ Cash exposure remains low and there continues to be focus on high levels of liquidity in everything that we own.
