Investment objective

To build capital in real (inflation-adjusted) terms over the medium to longer term. Investors should expect a high correlation to stock market behaviour and rewards, and be entirely comfortable with substantial volatility and very limited protection in times of market weakness.

Risk profile

The strategy is managed with a maximum target of 100% equity market exposure and is categorised as a Bordier Risk Profile 5 and Defaqto Risk Rating 8 (Adventurous).

About the Platform Managed Portfolio Service

Our Platform Managed Portfolio Service ('PMPS') has been awarded the maximum Defaqto 5 stars as a solution for advisers to manage client assets on a third-party platform. The service offers five investment growth strategies ranging from Defensive to Adventurous. Each strategy has a different level of risk and potential return, with risk categorised by equity market exposure that increases in increments of 20% for each strategy.

Investment update

Continuing concerns over the impact of US tariffs on global trade and inflation heavily impacted equity markets in March. Global equities fell 5% in local currency terms, but by nearly 7% in sterling terms as the US dollar weakened quite significantly. Global bonds also fell over the month, albeit more modestly and with significant dispersion across regions. The US market was most affected by the uncertainty caused by President Trump's haphazard tariff announcements and now significantly lags other key markets so far this year. Consequent growth concerns weighed heavily on smaller companies while the giant technology stocks, which dominate the larger cap end of the US market, also remain under pressure in the face of perceived competition from China. The broader eurozone market declined in March, although it remains in positive territory so far this year as a shift in fiscal policy has driven some optimism on the economy. The UK market also fell c.2% over the month amongst the negative sentiment, however it did largely shrug off the spending cuts announcements from Chancellor Reeves. Asian and emerging markets outperformed their developed market counterparts, ending the month broadly flat in local currency terms. As would generally be expected, sovereign bond returns in each key region have offset gains or losses in equity market returns. Consequently, US treasuries have returned a positive 3% year to date. The US Federal Reserve kept rates on hold at its March meeting but did intimate that it might be more focused on supporting growth than dampening inflation, still leaving the possibility of 50 basis points of cuts before the end of the year. In contrast, the European Central Bank cut rates for the second time this year with the market now expecting a further 60 basis points of cuts over the course of 2025. Despite near-term challenges, we continue to view financial conditions generally as remaining quite supportive for businesses, consumers and investment risk-taking, and expect asset price volatility to subside once greater policy clarity materialises. The risk of being whipsawed by recent price movements is high, so our preference is to sit tight within stockmarkets, maintain the strategy at the top end of its allowable equity range, and ride out this period of uncertainty.
