Investment objective

To build capital in real (inflation-adjusted) terms over the medium to longer term. Investors should expect a high correlation to stockmarket behaviour and rewards, and be entirely comfortable with substantial volatility and very limited protection in times of market weakness.

Risk profile

The strategy is managed with a maximum target of 100% equity market exposure and is categorised as a Bordier Risk Profile 5.

About the Managed Portfolio Service

Our Managed Portfolio Service ('MPS') has been awarded the maximum Defaqto 5 stars as a solution for advisers to manage client assets directly with Bordier UK. The service offers five actively managed investment strategies ranging from Defensive to Adventurous. Each strategy has a different level of risk and potential return, with risk categorised by equity market exposure that increases in increments of 20% for each strategy, and the ability to select an income option to benefit from regular income from the strategy as well as potential long-term capital growth.

Investment update

February was another good month for equity markets with the MSCI World Index up 2.8% in sterling terms. There was a notably high dispersion of returns between regions and equity sectors. Most fixed income sectors also produced positive returns, completing a good month for the strategies. News flow around the key, longer term, fundamental drivers of equity markets was broadly positive over the month. Inflation data in the UK and US was received favourably with the Bank of England now expecting to reach its 2% target in the next few months. Corporate earnings announcements globally were also resilient with increasingly positive forward guidance across a broadening range of sectors. This positive backdrop for risk assets supported markets over the month, despite a number of risks and uncertainties coming to the fore – namely geopolitical tensions, most significantly between the US and Iran, which has now escalated into full conflict in the Middle East. The relatively benign inflationary data, together with some demand for 'safe-haven' assets as geopolitical risks remain heightened, supported fixed income markets with sovereign bond yields falling in all developed market regions. We expect the positive backdrop for risk assets will likely continue therefore we are retaining our existing exposure and the strategy remains at the top end of its allowable equity range. At the time of writing, US-Israel strikes on Iran have led to equity markets falling as we enter March. The key market impact of conflict in the region has historically tended to stem from rises in the oil price which, if both substantial and sustained, can alter the inflation and growth outlook more globally. It is too early to make firm judgements on this however history shows that it typically pays to sit tight at times of heightened geopolitical risk unless there is a clear and more permanent change in fundamentals. We will therefore monitor the situation closely and take action if we believe it is required.
